THE EUROPEAN ALLIANCE FOR MICROCREDENTIALS

The Official Launch of the European Alliance for Microcredentials commenced in hybrid mode (in Dubrovnik and online) on October 25th, 2023. The primary goal of the event was to introduce the Alliance to a wide audience of individuals and institutions interested in VET, education, and microcredentials, demonstrating how they can participate in the Alliance. The event was part of the European Vocational Skills Week 2023.

The Microcredential Alliance Unveiled

In a strategic move, MicroVET has established the Microcredential Alliance, a collaborative space designed to bring together relevant stakeholders in the education sector.

This alliance aims to facilitate the sharing of insights, innovations, and resources among participants, fostering an environment conducive to shaping the future of education.

How to Engage

Stakeholders interested in joining the Microcredential Alliance can express their interest by visiting the MicroVET website or reaching out directly to the project team. The platform looks forward to welcoming passionate contributors who share the vision of advancing education through collaboration.
